HPC AIRCLEAN 25

Product group: 434 Product number: 734087

Unitor's series of air-driven high-pressure cleaners includes some of the most advanced air-driven units on the market. The machines are developed in cooperation with shipping and offshore customers. They are reliable and can withstand the rigorous demands on the marine environment.

Product information

Since the Unitor™ HPC Airclean™ models contain any electric or other ignition items, they are regarded as "cold" and therefore do not need any explosion proof certification. They can thus be used everywhere in hazardous areas.

The units are widely used by major oil and gas companies as well as on vessel with ex areas.
